

INsight Series

Scientific Communication: Academic Writing for Publication

A collaboration between NUST and Stellenbosch University

This course seeks to provide participants with information, vital skills and insights into requirements for effective academic writing to produce high-quality publications.

Target Audiences

Doctoral students registered at NUST, NUST staff registered for doctoral studies, or early career researchers (within 5 years of completing a PhD).

Requirements

Draft manuscript, and journal guidelines for preferred journal.

Delivery Mode

In-person class, comprising a combination of self-study and group work.

What to bring?

Basic stationery, laptop, power extension cables, draft manuscript.

Date: Monday, 13 May 2024 - Friday, 17 May 2024

Deadline for applications: Friday, 26 April 2024

Click here to apply and attach a draft manuscript: (<https://forms.office.com/r/2cwCNgE2Yg>)

Time: 08h30 - 16h30 daily

Venue: 6th Floor, High-Tech Transfer Plaza Select (HTTPS) Building, NUST Lower Campus

Successful applicants will be informed of the outcome by the 03 May 2024.

Enquiries

High-Tech Transfer Plaza Select (HTTPS) Building
Cnr Brahms and Beethoven Streets, Windhoek
E. pgdc@nust.na

PAMIBIA UNIVERSITY
OF SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY

Directorate: Research, Innovation and Partnerships

Stellenbosch
UNIVERSITY
IYUNIVESITHI
UNIVERSITEIT