Invitation to Join the Academic Writing Retreat for Publication

Navigating Success: Strategies for thriving in Postgraduate Studies

This retreat is designed to provide both students and staff with a focused environment dedicated to the art and craft of academic writing. It presents an invaluable opportunity to concentrate on writing papers with the aim of making substantial progress towards submitting draft manuscripts.

Highlights of the Retreat

- Dedicated Writing Time: Uninterrupted blocks of time to focus solely on writing.
- Expert Guidance: Access to experienced academic writers and editors who can offer insights and feedback.
- Collaborative Environment: An opportunity to share ideas and receive constructive peer reviews.

Who qualifies for this Retreat?

- Open to all post graduate students and staff eager to advance their academic publication goals.

Benefits

- This Retreat will provide an opportunity to concentrate solely on writing and research without the usual distractions of academic life, leading to higher productivity.
- The Retreat includes brainstorming or idea-generation sessions that can help students develop and refine their research questions and hypotheses
- We encourage all aspiring academic authors to take advantage of this retreat to advance their writing projects significantly. Spaces are limited, so please apply early to secure your participation.
